Dispatch management simplified with SteelOnline or EDI

ThyssenKrupp Steel Europe
Thinking the future of steel

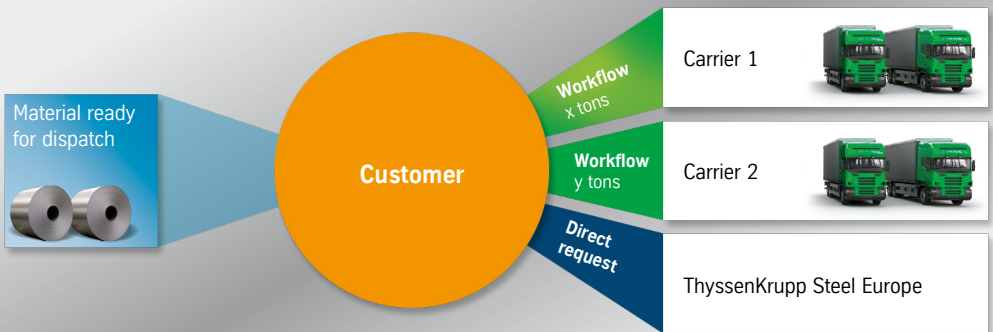

ThyssenKrupp

SteelOnline

The tool for your online
dispatch management

Dispatch management paperless, flexible, easy

Request your material ready for dispatch directly or use the new SteelOnline carrier profile for your dispatch management.

Clarity and flexibility due to full transparency going from a ready for shipment notice to a delivery note

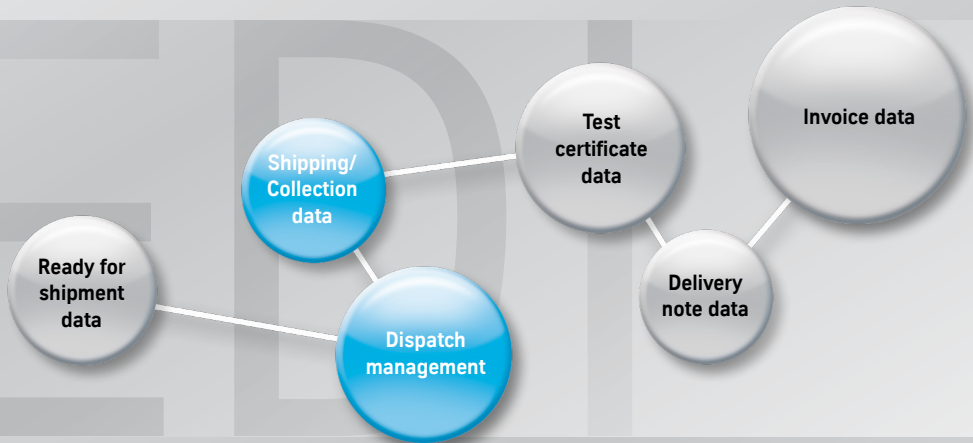

Optimal support of your daily work by means of specific queries, individual layouts, extensive search criteria and comfortable information via email

Optimisation of your paper work due to current online data and automatic information via email

Simplified international logistics processing by using the wide range of languages offered online and for automatic emails (German, English, French, Italian and Spanish)

EDI

Fully automatic data interchange

EDI optimises your business processes by the means of electronic data exchange – fast, accurate, efficient.

With the two new EDI message types Dispatch management and Shipping/Collection data, ThyssenKrupp Steel Europe henceforth offers an EDI support for the process of dispatch management. These two new EDI message types fill the last gap of an entirely integrated and transparent EDI steel supply chain going from a material ready for shipment notice to invoice data.

We'd like to tell you more.
